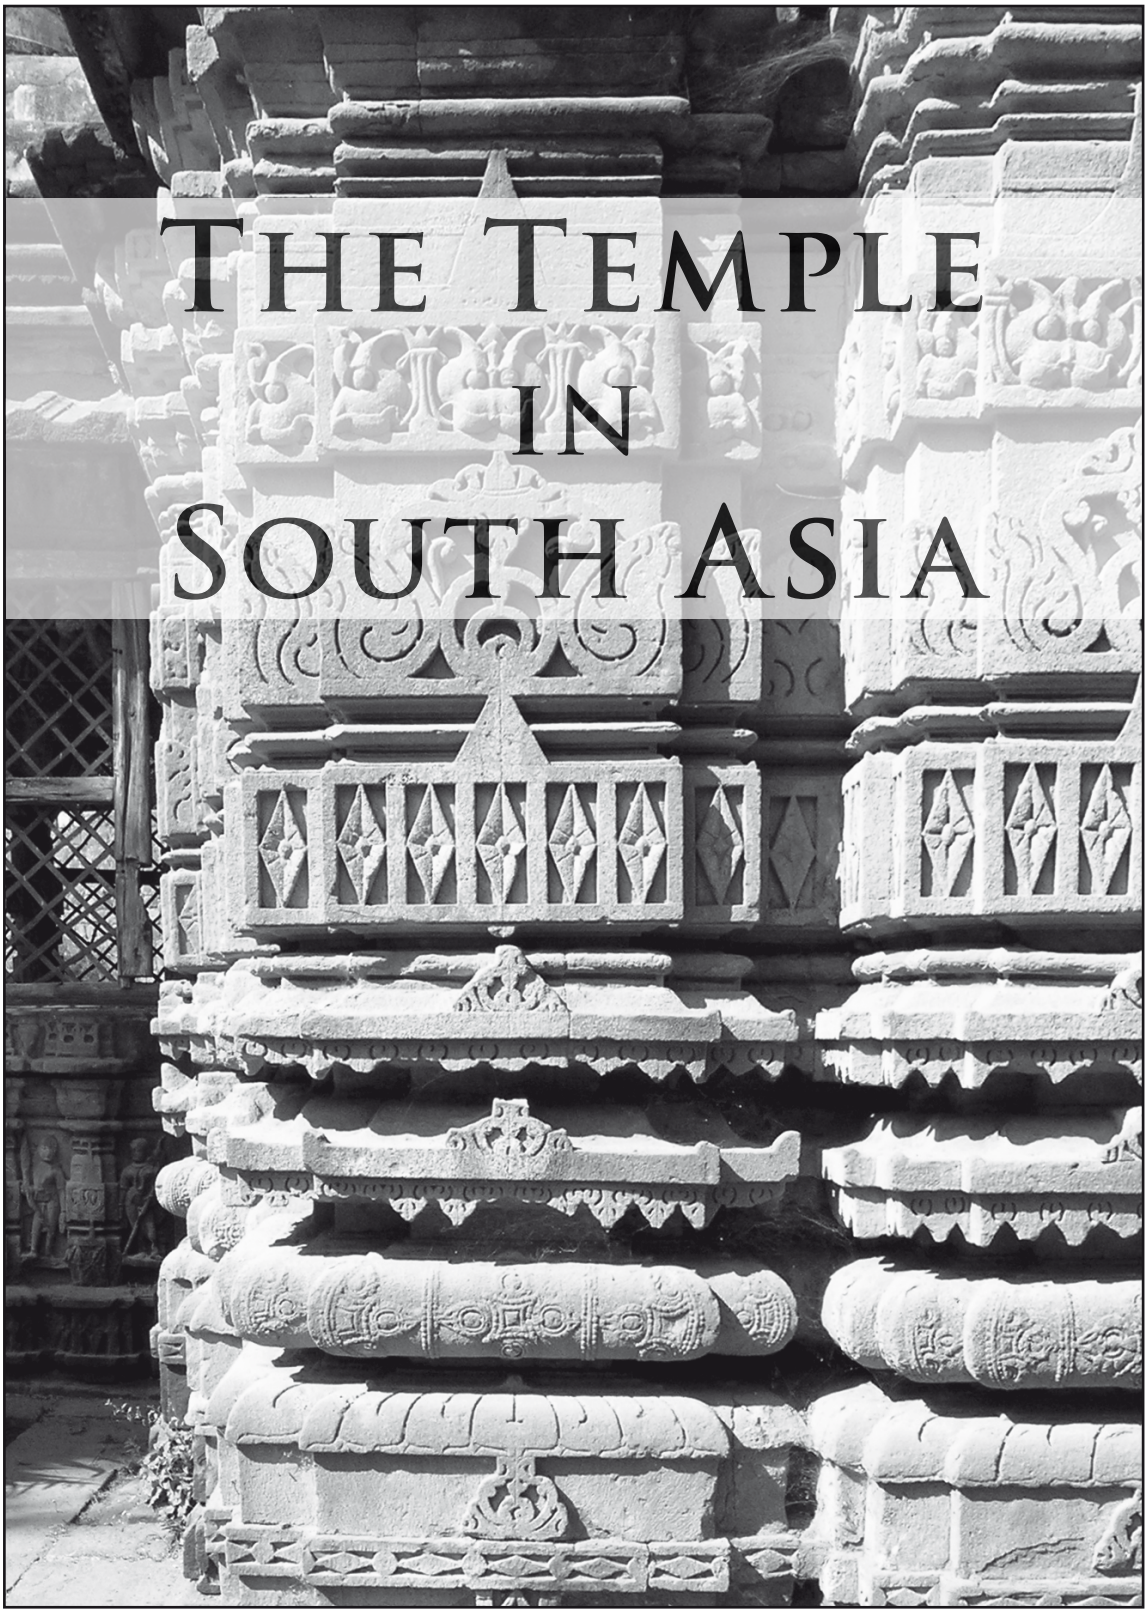
The Temple in South Asia



Edited by Adam Hardy

The Temple in South Asia

Edited by Adam Hardy

Volume II of the proceedings of the 18th Conference of the European Association of South Asian Archaeologists, London, 2005

ISBN 0-9553924-3-8

Published by the Society for South Asian Studies, The British Academy, London, 2007

General Editor: Michael Willis

CONTENTS

Early Architecture And Its Transformations: New Evidence For Venacular Origins For The Indian Temple
Michael W Meister 1

The Apsidal Temple Of Taxila: Traditional Hypothesis And Possible New Interpretations
Luca Colliva 21

The Archaeological Remains Of Rāmgarh Hill: A Report
Anne Casile 29

Architectural Features Of The Medieval Temples Surviving In Maharashtra
Gerard Foekema 51

Parts And Wholes: The Story Of The Gavākṣa
Adam Hardy 65

Cholas, Pandyas, And 'Imperial Temple Culture' In Medieval Tamilnadu
Leslie C Orr 85

Regional Pasts, Imperial Present: Architecture And Memory In Vijayanagara-Period Karnataka
Crispin Branfoot 107

New Research On Paharpur Buddhist Monastery (North Bengal)
Jean-Yves Breuil and Sandrine Gill 129

Defining The Sacred Space: Painted Ceilings In Dung Dkar And Tsaparang In Western Tibet
Helmut F Neumann 141

From Textile Dress To Vault Of Heaven: Some Observations On The Function And Symbolism Of Ceiling Decorations In The Western Himalayan Buddhist Temples Of Nako/Himachal Pradesh, India
Christiane Papa-Kalantari 153

Domes, Tombs And Minarets: Islamic Influences On Jaina Architecture
Julia A B Hegewald 183

Vaishnava Havelis In Rajasthan Origin And Continuity Of A Temple Typology
Shikha Jain 195